CLARK GIVES VIEWS OF THE DEMOCRATS ON PAYNE TARIFF BILL

Says Republicans Are Utterly Incapable of Reducing Expenses.

SITUATION NOW
IS UNPRECEDENTED

THE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE FINDS ITSELF IN THE POSITION OF EITHER RAISING $150,000,000 EXTRA PER ANNUM FROM DUTIES OR ELSE BEING CONFRONTED WITH A BOND ISSUE.

By Associated Press. Washington, March 24.—The new tariff bill was discussed today from the Democratic viewpoint by Mr. Clark, of Missouri, the Democratic minority leader. It was not anticipated that he would occupy nearly so much time as did Mr. Payne.

Following his usual custom, Mr. Clark delivered his speech from well in front of the speaker's seat and there was a full attendance to hear him.

Mr. Clark at times injected humor into what he had to say and was frequently interrupted by applause.

As a preliminary he provoked the house to great laughter and Mr. Olmstead of Pennsylvania, the chairman, so no little embarrassment by congratulating him upon the advent yesterday of a son.

For Mr. Payne, the minority leader had only words of praise and his remarks in that connection elicited applause on both sides.

Mr. Payne's powers of endurance, he declared, were a marvel, and his nine hours' speech on the tariff had made him a great historical person, in company with Henry Clay, Robert J. Walker, Senator Merrill of Vermont, William McKinley, William L. Wilson and Nelson Dingley.

"Indeed," said Mr. Clark, "he has knocked higher than a kite the idiotic theory of Dr. Osier."

The speech of the majority leader, he characterized as a superb vindication of his physical and mental strength.

Mr. Clark also had a kind word for every member of the committee on ways and means. "We worked like galley slaves in trying to ascertain the truth," he said. He denied that the committee had been charged, and declared that if any charges had been made, they were unfounded. He received an unkind word in the committee room he had provoked it by his own acts.

Declaring that the present was no time for an academic discussion of the tariff, Mr. Clark, (Missouri), said that he had gone to Chairman Payne and suggested that insofar as he was concerned he gladly would have waived all general debate on the bill if assurance could be given that there would be ample time for a discussion and debate under the five-minute rule of the entire measure, section by section. It was his judgment that the bill could be amended in many respects.

"CONFIDENCE GAME." Touching the failure of the consumer to appear before the committee, Mr. Clark said that there were two reasons for this: one, that in the beginning the public looked upon the hearings as a stuporous confidence game, and second, that the consumer felt that possibility of having his tariff burden substantially reduced was so remote that he did not think it worth traveling expenses, hotel bills, neglect of business and loss of time. While that applied to the fairly well to do ultimate consumer, he said, there were millions of ultimate consumers who had not the wherewithal to foot the bills for a trip to Washington and other millions who could scrape together the expense money could not afford to use it in that way.

"So that," he said, "the ultimate consumer really speaks in the hearings only through questions propounded by members of the committee in an honest endeavor to ascertain the truth."

Most of the cross-firing among witnesses, he said, was where one set of

M. O'LEARY CANDIDATE FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS DID NOT QUALIFY

TAFT WILL ATTEND CHARLOTTE CELEBRATION

Party to Whom He Entrusted Application Failed to File It.

COMMITTEE COULD NOT TAKE ACTION

HELD MEETING LAST NIGHT AND RECEIVED AN OPINION FROM JUDGE CARTER—MR. O'LEARY MADE NO OBJECTION TO RULING, BUT THANKED COMMITTEE FOR ITS ATTENTION TO HIS PETITION.

The name of Mike O'Leary, an announced candidate for the position of street superintendent, will not be printed on the ballot to be used in the city primary election to be held on April 2, he having failed to deposit his assessment with the secretary of the city democratic executive committee before 12 o'clock noon last Tuesday.

At a special meeting of the committee held last night it was decided that Mr. O'Leary's failure to pay his assessment within the time limit would prevent his name being printed on the ballot. The committee's action being based upon the following opinion rendered by Francis B. Carter, chairman of the committee:

JUDGE CARTER'S OPINION.

Pensacola, March 24, 1909.

Dr. Warren E. Anderson, Chairman City Democratic Executive Committee, City.

Dear Sir: You ask my opinion respecting the authority of the committee upon the following state of facts as I understand them. A candidate gave his son the fee and the application required by the primary call, to be delivered to the secretary of the committee, but the son failed to deliver it, and after the time fixed by the call the candidate himself tenders his application and fee, and requests that his name be placed upon the primary ballot. The candidate gave his application, and tendered his son on the last day fixed in the call for its receipt by the committee.

In my opinion, the committee have not the right to receive the application and fee under those circumstances and the terms of the primary call. While it is a hardship upon the candidate, still the committee is not to blame. The son was the agent of the candidate and not of the committee, and under the terms of the call the candidate had nearly three weeks within which to qualify.

Yours very truly,

FRANCIS B. CARTER.

MR. O'LEARY'S APPLICATION.

Mr. O'Leary's explanation of his failure to qualify is contained in the following communication, which was read at the meeting of the committee last night:

Pensacola, Fla., March 24, 1909.

To the Members of the City Democratic Committee, Pensacola, Fla.

Dear Sirs: I herewith respectfully request you to place my name on the ticket to be voted on at the primary to be held on April 2d, as a candidate for street superintendent. Through an accident the amount of my assessment did not reach the secretary of your committee and I was unaware of this until early this morning when I noticed in the paper that my name did not appear in the list of qualified candidates. The money for the assessment was sent by a friend and, as stated above, through an accident it did not reach the secretary.

I believe in the primary system and know that the intention of the primary is to allow the people to make their selection at the polls. Inasmuch as I have publicly announced in each issue of both daily papers for the last several weeks my candidacy for the position in question, I feel that I should be permitted to go before the people as a candidate for the office and that they should be given an opportunity to vote for me if they so desired. I beg to assure you that I would not appear before you with a request that my name be put on the ticket if I had not publicly announced my candidacy, and through

BLACK HAND SOCIETY KILL ANOTHER MAN

Cigar Maker Shot Down in a Crowded New York Street in Presence of His Wife.

By Associated Press. New York, March 24.—Another killing which the police declare should be added to the list for the "black hand" society, was committed on the streets of Brooklyn today, when Joseph Genaro, a cigar maker, was shot down by a crowd of seven Italians. The police made several arrests and Mrs. Genaro, who stood by and implored her husband's enemies not to shoot him, declared that Antonio Cicotta, a saloon keeper, was one of the prisoners who had killed her husband. Detectives have had Cicotta under surveillance for some time, believing he was a member of the "black hand" society.

Five of the Italians were arrested.

KIDNAPPERS IDENTIFIED BY WHITLA BOY

Man Proves to Be James H. Boyle, a Plumber, Who Says the Woman is His Wife.

By Associated Press. Cleveland, March 24.—Willie Whitla today identified the man and woman held on suspicion by the Cleveland police as the persons who kidnaped him from school at Sharon, Pa., last week.

He said the man who gave his name as James H. Boyle, was the one who took him from school and carried him through a circuitous route to Cleveland and placed him in a house in the east end, where he was held until the ransom was paid. He also declared the woman was the one who cared for him and acted the part of nurse.

Boyle says the woman is his wife. The police have no other identification of the couple than the names given. So far as the man is concerned, the police believe his name is correct. Boyle is said to reside in Lima, Ind., and is a plumber by trade. Immediately after Willie had seen the man and woman, they were taken before the grand jury. The charge under the laws of Ohio, if an indictment is found, will be blackmail.

A woman known as Mary Deiner, who the police say, may have been associated with the kidnapers, or implicated in the plot, suicided today by drinking morphine while standing in front of a drug store, not far from the house where Willie was held.

Uncanny Noises on Car Caused Uneasiness

By Associated Press.

Chicago, March 24.—Uncanny noises on a west side street car today threw the passengers into a state of uneasiness.

Some believed that "spooks" were aboard. The names of streets were called out in sepulchral tones from some invisible source. The sounds appeared to come first from one side of the car and then from another. The conductor stood at his post on the rear platform and did not open the door. The passengers looked around uneasily and fidgeted.

An elderly woman being invited to "step lively" became panic-stricken. The trouble was caused by a megaphone with which the company is experimenting. A mouth piece inserted at the end of the car where the conductor stands and a speaking tube runs from it to the center of the roof, where there is a small megaphone attachment. The conductor is enabled to make his announcements without leaving the platform. If the experiment proves successful it will be installed on all the pay-as-you-enter cars.
